"In Claudia's dream"

In Claudia's sea of dreams, murky shadows come to life as part of a fantasy dream world, in which she will discover that not everything is what it seems.

"Claudia can't write a story"

A small tribute to all the children who have yet to discover that, in each one's minds and hearts, the best dormant stories wait to be awakened.

Picture book. Unpublished

When she is asked to write a story at school, Claudia starts desperately biting her pencil. "I can't write a story! I have no imagination and nothing interesting ever happens to me", she says to herself, without knowing that her mind is full of stories, images and adventures that could fill a whole library... or a blank page, at least!
